It amazes me how you guys still don't get it. Amongst all that verbiage, fronting, %s and the like, couple with the audacity to even imply a "heavy-handed approach of Peter Joseph" given the true reality of the situation and my prior legwork to ease tension with TVP for the sake of the entire RBE Community, you STILL do not understand the damage you have now done and the prior need for an immediate reaction for damage control. Incredible.

I'm done here. I hope your future interests and actions, TZM related or not, come from a more expanded place of awareness, respect and consideration.
